Senate Committee's Favorable Recommendation For Jones Inlet Appropriation Revives Hope

Mayor Doxsee Named Regional Head of Good Roads Ass'n.

Made Governor for Nassau and Suffolk By Charles H. Sells

Mayor Robert L. Doxsee has been named Regional Governor of the New York Good Roads Association. In his new capacity Mayor Doxsee will have charge of Association's activities and supervise New York Good Roads Association Chapters in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The appointment was announced this week by Charles H. Sells, executive director of the New York Good Roads Association.

Mr. Doxsee who was born on a farm near Islip, the second son of a family of five boys and one girl comes from several generations of Long Islanders. He attended public schools. Living on the edge of Great South Bay he had early experience in the details of the fishing industry, which he has followed throughout his life. His reputation is more than statewide in regard to intimate knowledge of fishing generally. He has specialized on the effects of erosion and for years has been fighting a battle in cooperation with County and Town authorities to obtain Federal Funds to stabilize Jones Inlet and to prevent the washing away into the Atlantic Ocean of the village of Point Lookout. The matter is now before the Army Engineers and the protection of the property is dependent upon making a channel of Jones Inlet in such a way that erosion will be permanently stopped.

Three years ago he became a Village Trustee and after a year's service was nominated and unanimously elected Mayor. Under his administration the parking fields which had been protected and designed under the majority of Cyril C. Ryan, are almost completed.

Mr. Doxsee has been engaged in the commercial fishing business in Nassau County since 1919 and is presently engaged in the harvesting and shipping of sea clams for the manufacture of clam chowder. His business is presently being conducted under the Long Island Sea Clam Company which is located at Point Lookout.

Wetlauffer Awarded Doctorate By the N. Y. College of Music

The New York College of Music has just awarded a doctorate in Music to J. Maynard Wetlauffer, director of music in the Freeport schools. This is a signal honor seldom conferred on a person in the teaching profession. Only one doctorate is conferred annually by the college. A year ago the recipient was Alexander Greischnauroff and some years ago Fritz Kreitzler received the degree from the same institution.

A graduate of Colgate University with the A.B. degree, Sherwood Music School with the Band Music degree, and Hofstra College with the Master of Science in Education degree, Dr. Wetlauffer has now achieved this highest of all educational goals.

An outspoken champion of school music, Dr. Wetlauffer has become a nationally known music educator and has written dozens of magazine articles, one published book, another collection of released songs, and string collections and marching band formations based on popular tunes. He has been a speaker at several State music conventions, and is in constant demand at marching band clinics all over the United States. He has worked to have school credits and on-school-time rehearsals granted to music students, and contends that the value of music study to any child, particularly in these days of trying circumstances to everyone, cannot be estimated.

As he has said frequently, "Who is to say that music study will not be the most important to our present-day youngsters when they are 25, 30 or 40 years old?"

A member of the board of directors of the New York State Music Camp, a former executive board member of the New York State Music Association, a member of several music committees of the Music Educators National Conference, former organizer of Spartan

DINNER FOR MSGR. MAHON TO BE GIVEN ON AUG. 3

The committee in charge of the dinner and reception to be given the Rev. John J. Mahon, pastor of Our Holy Redeemer R.C. Church, to honor him on his having been elected a monsignor, has selected Thursday night, Aug. 3, for the event. It will be given in the South Shore Yacht Club. A committee soliciting funds for a purse to be given the pastor on that occasion.

DR. J. MAYNARD WETLAUFFER

Lodge 956, F. & A.M., band director at Adelphi College, organizer and director of the Freeport Community Orchestra, choir director of the Oceanside Lutheran Church, in addition to his regular school duties, Dr. Wetlauffer still finds time to pen these various articles concerning his great love—"Music for every child, and every child for music."

In his 15 years in Freeport he has developed this "Freeport plan" to his present national recognition. A native of Pennsylvania, his wife is the former Margaret Petee. They have two sons, Richard and George.

Village Board Rescinds Newton Blvd. Widening

The Village Board at a special meeting, following a hearing Monday night in the Municipal Building, voted to rescind its action taken four years ago providing for the widening of Newton Blvd., eight feet by taking land on the north side of the street.

This action was taken on the application of the corporation which is planning to erect a development of stores fronting on South Main st., Newton Blvd., Henry st., and action was taken on recommendation of the Planning Commission, which has approved of the plan to rescind that step. The developers have recommended that parking be banned on the north side of the street to compensate for the decision not to carry out the widening.

August H. Bohn and His Bride, Ruth E. Mack on Honeymoon

Mrs. August Henry Bohn, the former Miss Ruth Elizabeth Mack, and her husband, who were married in Our Holy Redeemer R.C. Church by the Rev. John P. Drab on Saturday, July 1, are to live in Nassau Shores on their return from their honeymoon trip. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. A. Mack, 256 Park ave. Her husband is the son of August O. Bohn, of Bayville. She was given in marriage by her father. Her sister, Miss Marylou Mack was maid of honor. Miss Laura Walters, cousin of the bride, and Miss Barbara Brennan, a classmate, were bridesmaids. William Meschke, of Bayville, was best man, while Walter James Mack, brother of the bride, and Robert Shoemaker, ushered. A reception was given in the South Shore Yacht club, after which the young couple left on an extended motor trip through the New England States.

The bride was graduated from Mary Lewis Academy in Jamaica last month and plans to enter Hofstra College in the fall. Mr. Bohn, a graduate of Bayville High School, served with the Army in Australia during World War II, and is a student at Hofstra.

Republican Club Plans For Penny Sale Tonight

The Freeport Republican Club is to stage a penny sale tonight in the Legion Dugout. The July meeting is usually omitted, but at the June gathering it was decided to get together this month and to make it peppy by conducting the sale. Plans will be completed for the annual outing to Point Lookout next month.

Fultz, Legion Head, Recovering From Attack by Thugs

Injuries Prevented Attending Induction; Other Officers Seated

Oscar J. Fultz, commander of William Clinton Story Post, A. L., is recovering from injuries he received when he was held up and assaulted by four youths early last Friday. He suffered two broken ribs and severe cuts and bruises about the head, body and legs which prevented him from attending his own installation at the meeting of the Legion Friday night in the Dugout. Past Commander William W. Davis served as proxy for him.

The holdup took part in the southeastern part of the village, and Fultz's attackers got away with $40. However, the suspects were quickly rounded up and are being held in the Mineola Jail pending trial having been unable to raise the necessary $2,000 bail each to gain their freedom.

C. Edward Larsen, past commander of Story Post, recently selected county commander, officiated at the installation with his staff. All the speakers expressed regret at the misfortune which had befallen Commander Fultz.

The officers installed were: Charles F. Mountcastle, Hubert McEllean, Gordon Simonsen, vice commanders; Merrill Ruhe, treasurer; Reynold Wolff, recording adjutant; Kenneth E. Vought, retiring commander, corresponding adjutant; Walter V. Morse, historian; E. Willard Helland, chaplain and welfare officer, and Anita Metz, sergeant-at-arms.

Mayor and Civic Leaders See Fight Ahead to Get $500,000 Appropriation

News that the Senate Appropriations Committee had recommended a grant of $500,000 with which to start work on the Jones Inlet improvement was received with rejoicing in Freeport though it was realized that this was only the first step in the fight to get the appropriation through Congress. Civic leaders received the information Monday night in telegrams from U. S. Senator Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, who has joined Republicans in Washington in the drive to obtain funds for the project, which was approved before the opening of World War II. In fact the movement to obtain the improvement has been under way for ten years.

Mayor Robert L. Doxsee, a leader of the movement, who has made numerous trips to Washington, was elated but pointed out that the fight to get the money had just begun.

Among those to whom Senator Lehman wired were Harry H. Zorger, secretary of the Atlantic-South Civic Association. He announced the approval of the appropriation by the Committee and concluded by saying he was happy over the action.

Congressman Leonard W. Hall, presented the matter to the Senate Committee on Monday. He had huge aerial maps to show how the ocean currents have washed away so much of Point Lookout that 800 homes there are menaced by tidal waters. He showed how if the same treatment is given the Short Beach side of the inlet as has been applied at Point Lookout, the inlet will be stabilized and waterways in the entire area, especially those in the vicinity of Freeport, benefited.

"The action of the Senate Appropriations Committee," the Congressman said, "is indeed heartening news. To get recognition of this act, has been a long hard fight and the action of the Senate committee is one step toward our goal."

The matter now will go before the full Senate. If approved there, it must be ratified by the House Appropriations Committee which turned it down several months ago. If the committee should act favorably the House would have to pass it before the money could become available.

The cost of the project has been estimated at $2,400,000 of which the Government has been asked to contribute half, so Monday's action was only a "token" appropriation. New York State has obligated itself to provide $600,000, Nassau County, $300,000 and the Town of Hempstead a like amount.

Unity Party Outing Committee Hopes Saturday Will Be Fair

With plans completed for the annual outing of the Unity Party at Point Lookout Saturday, the committees in charge of the event are hoping for fair weather to insure a record turnout for the event. Under the direction of co-chairmen Cord Vlebroek and Peter Kelly hundreds of tickets entitling the holders to admission to the Hempstead Town Park and free refreshments have been mailed to party members. There also will be games for all and an enjoyable day is anticipated. Most of the picnicers are expected to make the trip to the beach in their private cars. However, if any desiring to attend the outing are lacking transportation, they may make their way to Brooklyns and Long Beach aves., where a bus, provided by the committee, will be awaiting them. It is scheduled to leave for Point Lookout at 10 o'clock. For the convenience of any who

1. Use a rich, strong coffee, because ice dilution makes a weak coffee even more pallid and insipid.

Atlantic-South Resents Omission Of 'Freeport' on Pkwy. Exit Sign

Ever alert to the interests of Freeport, members of the Atlantic-South Civic Association have discovered that the exit signs at Southern State Parkway and Nassau ave. do not indicate that the latter street leads to Freeport and they want the shortcomings corrected. It was voted at the monthly meeting Thursday night in the South Shore Yacht Club to write the Long Island State Park Commission calling attention to the matter. President W. E. Watson presided.

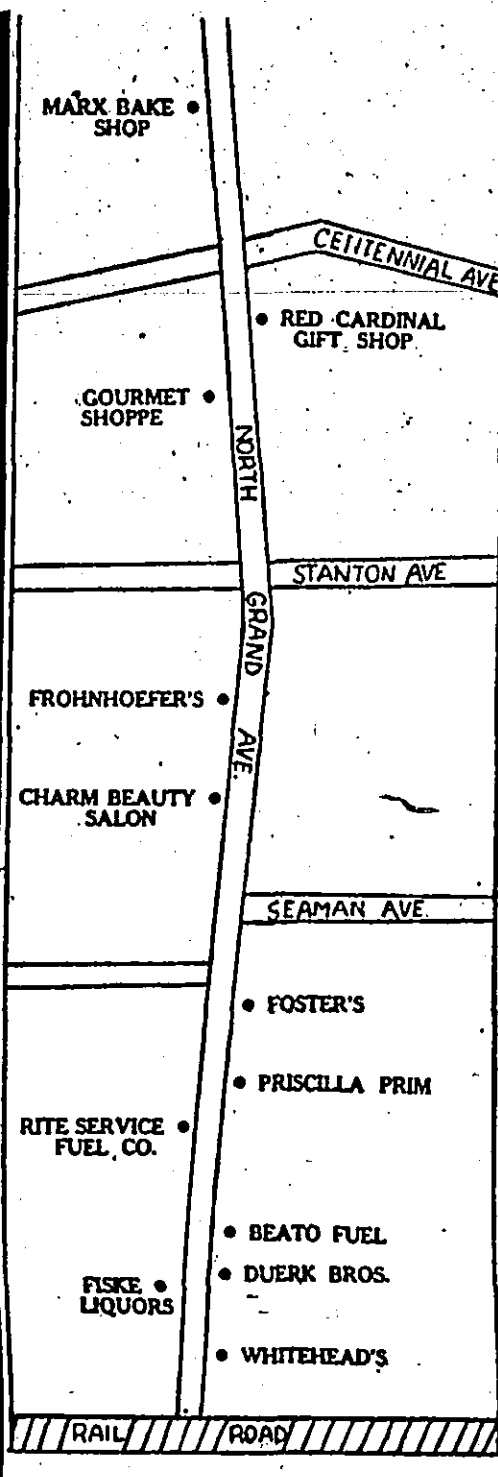

On motion of Edmund Rosendahl it was voted to write the Public Service Commission putting the association on record as being opposed to granting the latest application of the Long Island Rail Road for another continuation and fare increase. Mr. Rosendahl also moved that the village be asked to find some way of easing the parking problem faced by commuters and his motion was passed.

Theodore R. Carle called the attention of the members to the fact that while other civic associations offer prizes to the graduates of the Freeport High School for excellence in various subjects, the Atlantic-South has failed to do. Several members voted the opinion that a prize should be offered and the general opinion was that it should concern some civic movement of interest to Freeport. President Watson was instructed to appoint a committee to consult the members of the Board of Education on the subject before taking definite action on the matter.

The association voted to renew its membership in the Freeport Chamber of Commerce but deferred until next month the naming of a member to represent it on the board of directors.

Mrs. Rosendahl announced plans for a picnic at Hecksher State Park on Sunday, Aug. 27. There was a prolonged discussion concerning the growth of weeds in the southern section of the Village and it was decided a large delegation should attend the next regular meeting of the Village Board to urge that some action be taken looking toward mowing them down.

Pearson; Insurance, Mr. Jensen, chairman; Dr. E. Freeman Miller, chairman; and Audits, Mr. Pearson, chairman; Mr. Jensen, and Public Relations, Dr. Miller, chairman; Mr. Pearson.

Sitting up on the side of a mountain in Pennsylvania this past week end your editor found a pleasant place to think. Places like Washington, Korea, Berlin and Tokyo seemed a long, long ways off.

Of course, Washington didn't seem too far away, but it's much harder to tell what's going on there than in the other three above mentioned places.

As for Berlin, it is alleged we or the Russians took over that city back in 1945.

But now, from all the dope given out on the cold war, it's pretty hard to tell just who won the war in Germany, the Germans, the Russians, or us.

We do seem to remember that we were pretty close to Berlin when we slowed up to let the Russians get there first.

Then we divided it up and let Russia have east Berlin and we took the western part with a Soviet strip to the west of us.

So we have been fighting a cold war ever since, and sometimes the Russians let us go into Berlin, and sometimes they don't.

From all one can gather there's just one big turmoil after another in Europe as to what form of government is favored, Democracy or Communism.

And when you get closer back to Washington, you aren't able to tell whether there are Communists in our government or not.

We have one bunch crying that the government is filled with Reds. And at the same time you have another bunch all ready with a bucket of white wash ready to clear up the whole mess.

But when you get thinking about Tokyo and General MacArthur, you don't have to be very smart to see just who won the war and who is running the show.

We have occupied Japan for almost five years now and when they hold an election it is done on a democratic basis.

And old Doug has enough of what it takes to order the Japanese government to ban Communists from public life.

Still there are a lot of bright people who maintain that the General has a very exalted opinion of himself and his position.

But from up on top this mountain this Sunday afternoon, it looks as if General MacArthur has accomplished something which might warrant a little chest expansion.

For example, there is very little cold war in Tokyo . . . he has made the majority of the people like America and its form of government, and he does eliminate the Communists.

Maybe things look a little different through the light air of this mountain side than they do at sea level.

But at any level, we can all be thankful we have General MacArthur in the Korean trouble zone now.

The Editor's Notebook

With vacations under way or just ahead, many citizens are inclined to push their civic duties aside for the summer as the youngsters lay aside their school-books.

However, the voters need to do a little "homework" on citizenship just as the youngsters do theirs on winter nights. Even if no elections or registration days come in summer, each voter might do a little quiet thinking about registering and voting in the fall.

Because if we don't make our citizenship a full time job in these days we'll have only ourselves to blame if our favorite policies get buried under an avalanche of votes in November.

The buffalo nickle is becoming as extinct as the buffalo.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
Here it is July 4 and past. The State has just gotten around to cutting the grass in the Sunrise Highway Mall.

Further, it was originally believed the State would have the mall properly top-soiled and seeded so as to permit a fine crop of grass that would be a credit to the village. Instead, the only grass Freeport has ever gotten from the State is that which nature produced itself and there is nothing pretty about the sod on the malls.

Z. Z.

Dear Sir:

We note once again the great number of teen age boys and girls, mostly girls, thumbing rides to the beach. Many of these are quite brazen. They stand in the streets and in some cases "heckle" drivers as they ride by.

Of course, I know hitch-hiking is against the law, but I doubt if ever one has been arrested for this.

It seems to me your paper could render quite a service by writing about the dangers of hitch hiking, both on the part of the one seeking the ride, and the one giving it.

Why do parents allow their youngsters to hitch-hike and take such chances by picking up rides with strangers?

PUZZLED.

Dear Sir:

I have noted with considerable concern the heavy traffic on Main st. on busy shopping days. It seems to me that Main st. as narrow as it is, should be made either a one-way street, or if the merchants do not favor this idea, to discontinue parking on it altogether.

When one car tries to park on narrow Main st. now, it ties up a whole line of cars, sometimes, in both directions.

Why not make it a one way street?

MRS. JOHN KETCHUM.

Dear Sir:

I suppose these parking meters you have in Freeport are O.K. but I think your police department is over vigilant in so far as sticking tickets on the over-parked cars.

I have seen policemen in Freeport stand by and wait for the time to be out, and they quickly write a ticket and put it on the car. Is the village of Freeport so hard up financially they must resort to these measures?

SARA BLUESTEIN.

Dear Sir:

Freeport does have very fine parking facilities, especially the fine new parking fields recently opened. I like the idea of the parking meters because it is fair to all concerned.

I remember before the parking meters it was very difficult to find a place to park on our streets, but now it is quite easy to find a place to park, and the small charge is quite reasonable for such service.

I believe the village of Freeport deserves a vote of thanks for the fine job they have done in this parking problem.

JOSEPH MARINO.

Dear Sir:

I note with a great deal of pleasure you are now printing more news of Baldwin and the North-West section of Freeport. We live in N.W. Freeport, but do most of our shopping in Baldwin because it is much closer to us than Main st. Freeport. It is nice to see in our local paper such fine advertising from the better shops in Baldwin. Your paper is really going to town. However, why don't you start a teen-age page. We have two youngsters in our home of teen-age, and they would certainly enjoy such a page.

B.D.J.

CHAPTER VI

Developing the Research Program

One reason many research projects never leave the planning stage is that the apparent volume of organizational work appears too confusing and complex to be undertaken. To avoid this pitfall in outlining a research program for Freeport, we are making recommendations here which indicate sources of basic information and types of data that existing organizations and municipal agencies could readily provide.

Through this method our project will get under way. It will be necessary that a central correlating agency be established. This agency could include representatives of Village Government, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, and such other groups as may be interested in the civic welfare and economic development of this area.

In most places the Chambers of Commerce have assumed the responsibility for coordinating research programs of this type. However, the committee comprised of representative organizations as described might serve equally as well.

A part of the information can be supplied by various public utility organizations and will only require analyzing and coordinating for insertion in the final prospective. This will involve contacting the following organizations and preparing proper types of information to be determined by the committee along the lines described.

Some information easy to gather which may be helpful in presenting your community story.

Public Transportation:—1. Number of railroad trains per day, fares and running time. 2. Bus lines, fares and schedules. 3. Taxi cabs—number hours and rates.

Freight Transportation:—1. Railroad service—facilities—rates to principal industrial and retail centers. 2. Motor freight carriers regularly serving your area. 3. Water freight rates and facilities.

Power and Electricity:—1. Type and quality of service available. 2. Rates and other charges.

A survey of available land and costs. The cost of various types of construction and suitability of the terrain for specific types of construction.

With these approaches as indicative of the basic need, it becomes obvious that a preliminary survey should precede the master survey.

The preliminary survey should include:

Water and Sewers:—1. Type analysis. 2. Quantities available. 3. Rates and other charges. 4. Special rates, taxes or regulations concerning use of water or sewerage disposal.

In most instances the Department of Public Works or Water and Sewer Authorities can provide necessary data regarding use of water or waste disposal. Request their cooperation in preparing a report.

Fire Protection:—1. Description of equipment and operation. 2. Fire record statistics for comparative past three or four years. 3. Insurance rates.

The Fire Department and Insurance Agencies should be asked to cooperate in providing this information.

Police Protection:—1. A full description of the police department and its equipment should be provided by this organization. 2. Statistical information regarding crime—traffic patterns, and special recommendations.

Labor Study:—To gain a thorough knowledge of the amount of man power available and types of skills. A. In the village proper. B. In the surrounding area.

The Leader BookshelfBy MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

Brigid Knight has placed her new novel, "Not by Any Single Man" in the time of the Napoleonic wars. Roger Gray, living on the coast of England, had for some time covered his espionage work by appearing to be smuggling. His half brother, John, was very much in love with Catherine, but Catherine thought only of Roger. On one of his brief stays in England, they were married. Again Catherine had to await his coming as she did their child.

When Madeline, Roger's half-French daughter, was brought to them, Catherine at first was jealous of her. Finally she learned to understand this gay, vivacious girl who was so like her father. The complication between Madeline and William is most understandable though it causes such heartache.

The love interest, not history, is the main part of this book "Not by Any Single Man." Much light is thrown on the able William Pitt. Will Catherine and Roger live with you as did the Valiant Lady in Brigid Knight's book by the same name?

Freeporters who have heard Mrs. Anna Peter Rose Wright or read her stories in the magazines will want to read "Room for One More." Some of the book is a repetition of the material in the articles. For those who do not know Mrs. Wright, a treat is ahead. She writes in a gay, everyday manner of the happenings in this family of three of their own children and three other children whom they have brought up. For many parents there are pointers on child training, for any considering adopting a child, there are answers to questions they might have.

This is the story of a happy family, each one helping the other. There is plenty of humor in most residents.

of the stories she tells, like the time Tim went out to the barn in the rain and plumed his blankets on the pony because he had been told "not to let him catch cold." Tim was also a would-be scientist so explanations for him had to be carried out in that vein. One boy, a natural, born planner, had to be induced to go out-of-doors. It is evident that Mr. and Mrs. Wright really love children and are anxious to help them develop and grow up. "Room for One More" will also be read by young people.

Hofstra Adds Night And Afternoon Courses

Hofstra College will increase its late afternoon and evening course offerings to 150, a 50 percent advance over last year, on the basis of an anticipated record evening enrollment in this area.

Albert D. Caputo, director of the evening session, predicts that more than 1,500 men and women, most of them job-holders, will enroll at the college on September 11, 12 and 13 for courses which they hope will advance them in their jobs or broaden their personal horizons. The figure is a one-third increase over evening enrollment last fall. The additional course offerings provide programs for degrees in liberal arts, business administration and in education. All required courses leading to the study of engineering, law, medicine, nursing, dentistry and other professional subjects will be given. A degree with specialization in applied physics is offered to evening students for the first time this fall.

FREEPORT PUPILS TAKE PART IN DANCE SCHOOL RECITAL

They were Betsy Jane Bianco, Kathleen Blank, Victoria Jean Cassassa, Maryellen Kane, Margaret Kane, Joan Marie Martin, Marjory Scott, Virginia Thomas and Jill Young-child.

Miss Jeanne Shibley, of Roslyn, the director is a former Freeport family, each one helping the other.

Three Career Man

Earl Faber, an assured hit in vaudeville and now a sure hit in the insurance field has unwittingly added another facet to his reputation through his generous time and talent giving devotion to producing and presenting entertainment for local charities.

Faber and expert at producing shows, Faber is equally at home in his second career, insurance. In vaudeville at 12, a headliner on the major circuits of the United States and England at 20, he retired from show business, and has since proven to Irving Berlin that if there is a business like show business—it's insurance business.

The Palace of insurance men, a million dollars' volume a year, is no stranger to Faber. In 1947 he realized that figure in November, and in July, 1950, is fourth man for Mutual Benefit Life in this country, selling to clients like Fred Allen, Milton Berle, and others of the golden age of two-a-day.

Fabulous in two careers, married, father of three, grandfather of one, Faber is remembered as the man who courted Marge Green, a girl engaged to another man, met her (Continued on Page 15)

Where To Dine

The week started off with a splendid dinner at THE LAWRENCE INN on Merrick Road, Rockville Centre. This place recently changed hands and is now managed by Mr. Thomas J. Muller, formerly of the Hotel Delmonico. They serve excellent food, the atmosphere is pleasant, and the prices, we noted, were quite modest. Nothing like starting the week off right, and our visit to THE LAWRENCE INN filled the bill very nicely.

Sunday is rather a funny day in our eating department . . . it all starts off with our getting up a little later than usual and having a somewhat larger, and more leisurely breakfast. We usually get to Sunday dinner sometime in the middle afternoon and consequently do not start feeling hungry again 'till about eight or nine o'clock. By that time it is getting close to our bedtime, so we just look around for a spot to enjoy a good sandwich. In such a mood we found THE PILOT'S LOUNGE on South Grand ave., Baldwin, an ideal spot. They serve what they term a "GOURMET SANDWICH" which is very, very good. Their dining room is under going a "face lifting" right now but should be in good shape in a few days. (We kept wondering if the name GOURMET SANDWICH was inspired by the fine food shop up on North Grand ave. in the same village?) . . . could be.

There is nothing quite so enjoyable on a hot summer evening as to visit one of the nice spots along the waterfront. Last week we found ourselves in a favorite eatery, THE SEA BREEZE which is at the foot of Miller ave. in Freeport. . . . They feature a varied menu, but we always go for baked lobster which we seem to enjoy more than anything else when we are down at the water front. The generous helpings will delight you.

Since our yacht (one leaky rowboat without oars) is under repairs, the next best thing to do was to sail down the bay on the TOURIST which leaves the SEA BREEZE dock every hour on the hour. This is a luxury cruiser and you'll feel like a millionaire if after a delightful dinner you sail down the bay on such a cruiser. (Of course, it will help to close your eyes and dream the cruiser is your very own.)

Trying out a new place to eat can be fun, and for our one big night out we took in a place we had heard a great deal about. The SWEDEN TOWERS on Atlantic and Milburn aves., Baldwin. They serve SMORGASBORD and it is plenty good. If you like the luxury of fine surroundings and delicious food, this place will please you very much. Now we know why so many of our friends have praised this place.

It seems every village has its "hang out" where during the evening at some time or other, all the local big wheels will meet. In Freeport it seems VIEBROCK'S on South Main st. is the place. We were in there the other evening taking our time enjoying one of their super sodas and saw such notables as Freeport's Mayor BOB DOXSEE—ace builder PETE GUTHY—Village Trustees BILL GLACKEN and LEN SMITH—real estate man BOB PATTERSON—legal mind PAT SULLIVAN with his lovely wife ELEANOR (by the way, she drives the car, and he doesn't)—and band leader BOB TAVIS entertaining a group of music (and ice cream) lovers—and you see strange sights there too—for example, did you ever see a man eat saltines with his soda? One of Freeport's Trustees has this habit—believe us, VIEBROCK'S is quite a gathering place, and the sodas are delicious.

Next week we will tell you about a few new spots we have been in . . . it seems the south shore is well blessed with good eating places. Meanwhile if there is any information you may need regarding places to eat, drop us a line in care of THE LEADER, 20 South Main st., Freeport.

See you next week.

Three Career Man

EARL FABER

again after a year's absence due to the vagaries of show business, proposed, was accepted and was married that night in Crown Point, Ind., with Jack Benny as best man, and on the honeymoon, presented his bride, a Ziegfeld Follies associate of W. C. Fields and Ed Wynn with a baby skunk, while his good-sport wife accepted non-committally, and found it to be deodorized. This was in the days of the first talkies and imitations of Jolson's "Sonny Boy."

Incorporating the skunk into their new double-act, which climaxed with a puff of smoke enveloping Faber, the smoke cleared to reveal the skunk center-stage but securely tied. While women screamed, Faber on bended knee, would serenade the skunk with "Sonny Boy" as the audience smiled, tilted, then laughed contemptuously and uproariously Faber kept the bit in the act until shortly before he retired.

Faber has staged shows for the Freeport Elks, South Nassau Communities Hospital, and the Elks clubs of Oceanside, Roosevelt, and Merrick. At one time a resident of Garden City, he now lives in Merrick.
